

Researcher Development Partners

Who are we?

- We mobilise PhD researchers to support less advantaged pupils from non-selective state schools to access university and succeed when they get there
- We work with over 400 PGR/ECRs each year
- We partner with 48 universities and DTPs
- Our tutors support over 16,000 students every year across our programmes

Why partner with us?

- Support future PGR Equality, Diversity and Inclusion
- Contribute to your institution's civic mission through our connections with local schools
- Receive detailed evaluation and impact data on participating researchers

What's in it for PGR/ECRs?

- A chance to develop skills for inter-sector mobility
- Invaluable teaching and research communication experience
- Access to valuable third-sector training
- Fair pay and professional experience

'I feel more confident in being able to explain research to non-specialist audiences'

91% of tutors
strongly agree/agree

'I feel confident I could use my experience as a Scholars Programme tutor in future job applications to evidence my skills'

94% of tutors
strongly agree/agree

'I feel more confident in creating learning environments that support students from all backgrounds'

88% of tutors
strongly agree/agree

“ This is such a valuable way to spread knowledge of university and share research amongst communities which will benefit from both. There is no better way to hone teaching skills than engage with bright curious minds eager to learn. It is also fun and offers tutors another community to connect with.

Sophie Banks, The Open University

How do I get involved?

- Get to know our programmes here
- To find out more about what becoming a partner will involve and the costs associated, please email us

✉ hello@thebrilliantclub.org

👉 thebrilliantclub.org

Join
the
Club